

H&R Block® Refund policy

DIY software

The purchase price of the software is not refundable if you have filed (either online or mail-in) using H&R Block Canada's tax software. If you have not yet filed and are not satisfied with our tax software, please contact our Customer Support Team at 1-800-HRBLOCK (1-800-472-5625) within 7 days of purchase or 7 days from the original release date of the current year's tax software. You must have your original receipt and detailed information about why you are requesting a refund.

H&R Block Canada may provide a partial refund of your payment if a coupon code did not work properly during your payment. In order to request a partial refund due to a faulty coupon code, you will need to provide the faulty coupon code at the time of your call to our Customer Support Team. Please ensure you are using a valid and current tax year coupon code. The refund will be equivalent to the percentage associated with the coupon code. Please be aware that you cannot claim a refund for multiple coupon codes within the same transaction.
